

Name: _____

“Don’t Get Lost”

In the top row of the table write the names of four different types of maps. After carefully studying each map, list its characteristics and when it might be useful.

Type of Map
What information is presented in this map?
What are its important characteristics?
When would this map be helpful?				